“Mark is a strategic, global leader with a successful track record of driving above market business growth, while building scalable commercial operations and delivering best-in-class customer experience,” said John Sheridan, president and CEO. “We welcome Mark to our leadership team at this exciting stage in Tandem’s evolution, as we prepare to expand our family of innovative technologies and execute on our shared vision to improve the lives of people with diabetes.”

“I was drawn to Tandem’s mission-driven commitment to innovation and their customer-centric culture,” said Mr. Novara. “Tandem has a strong portfolio powered by Control-IQ technology that provides compelling clinical results for people living with diabetes. I am excited to be joining Tandem at this pivotal time and look forward to working closely with the team to build on its strong foundation through new product launches, commercial excellence and global expansion.”

Mr. Novara joins Tandem Diabetes Care from McKinsey & Company, where he served as Senior Advisor in the Medical Technology/Life Science practice since February 2023. Before that time, Mr. Novara held executive positions at Becton Dickinson for more than a decade, most recently serving as Worldwide Vice President and General Manager in Medication Delivery Solutions, as Senior Vice President, Global Strategic Marketing for the Medical and Life Sciences Segments, and as Worldwide Vice President and General Manager in Diabetes Care. He also held leadership positions with Roche and Sanofi-Aventis. Mr. Novara received a BS in Biology from Villanova University, and a Masters in Healthcare Management from Columbia University.
